Career, Family, and Heart

Seven years ago, Garrett shared his story as part of the People of Perth County campaign. At that time, he was living and working in North Perth as an accountant. Soon after, Garrett shifted his career into the financial planning realm - a decision he's found to be incredibly rewarding. Garrett and his wife briefly moved away, but knew that Perth County was where they ultimately wanted to be. They're now grateful to be back, raising their children in the community they love.

"My wife and I spent a few years living outside Perth County, but when we started our family, we felt the pull to return," Garrett explains. Returning to the area has been a decision they've never regretted. "We've found a wonderful neighborhood, made lasting friendships, and embraced the incredible growth Listowel has seen in the three years we were away."

Garrett still feels a deep connection to the community, valuing how Listowel blends the cozy feel of a small town with the perks of a larger centre. "It still holds the small-town warmth and close-knit community spirit we love, while offering many of the amenities of a larger centre," he says.

For Garrett and his family, Perth County is more than just a place to live - it's where they're building a life, surrounded by the kind of community that makes it easy to feel right at home.
