Born and raised in Mitchell, Joe has always been a huge fan of Perth County.

Pursuing an apprenticeship in carpentry, Joe wants those struggling with their future plans to know that “the trades are a great option. You don’t need to go to university to be successful.”

“Construction is a booming industry here, and I wanted to utilize its success in the region. It’s great working with my hands and learning from someone I know and admire.”

“All of Perth County feels like home. It’s simply a great place to be. It was such a great place to grow up and it will be a great place to raise my own family one day.” ■
