

"I really love what I do and I really love where I am. Life is easy and fun in Perth County. If I call a buddy to come over, he's here in five minutes. Everything's so close, but at the same time, you have so much space to yourself."

Wired for success

When Kevin was nearing the end of his high school career, he had no idea what he wanted to do with his life. Influenced by a great teacher, he decided to take two full year co-ops in his last years of high school.

"It's hard to know what career you want to pursue until you have the opportunity to experience it," explained Kevin, thankful that he has found his dream job. "Being an electrician, you get to work with your hands as much as you work with your head. That really appealed to me."

"It was an easy decision to start my career in Perth County because it has such a great reputation in the construction sector. All of the electricians I have learned from and worked for are really well respected. I love living in Mitchell because there's such a strong support network here. And the area is so central to everything I want to see and do. It's an easy drive to London, Toronto and the United States. Any sporting event or concert that I want to go to, I'm close by."

"I love small town life!" ■
