INTRODUCTORY.

In once more making our bow to the citizens of Stratford, we do so with feelings of sincere gratitude for the continued confidence so generously bestowed upon us, and for the evident appreciation of our efforts to serve them in the capacity of a directory compiler, as shewn by the liberal patronage accorded us in this our third visit to their "classic" town. In an especial manner we would express our thanks to the several editors of the Stratford papers for the words of encouragement given us through the medium of their respective journals, and otherwise; and to our patrons generally we would express our heartfelt acknowledgements for their renewed support and liberal patronage.

In this, our second edition of the Stratford Directory, we have endeavored to augment its usefulness as a reference by the addition of two important features, viz; a street directory, and a neat lithographic map of the town, the plan of the latter being executed by Messrs. Kirk & Kirk, Civil Engineers. These features which have been carried out at a considerable additional expense in labor and money, we feel sure will be appreciated by our patrons, and by all those who shall have occasion to refer to the work for information.

We have endeavored to use more than ordinary diligence and care in the compilation of these pages, and if errors or omissions are noted, which is quite possible, we trust that our critics will remember that "to err is human."

The Advertisers in this work represent the leading business men of the town, and we most cheerfully commend them to the patronage of all under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we once more bid them adieux, with the hope that our present enterprise may meet with the same generous approbation with which our former efforts to serve them have been received.

STRATFORD.

THE thriving town of Stratford, the county seat of Perth, is pleasantly located on the river Avon, at the angles of the townships of Ellice, North and South Easthope and Downie, and is the centre of one of the most fertile and thickly settled agricultural districts of the Province. It is moreover the most important railroad centre west of Toronto, the main line of the G. T. R., the B. and L. H. R., the P. D. and L. H. R., and S. and L. H. R. all converging at this point, and affording unusual inducements for the location of manufacturing and other enterprises, in its facilities for shipping to all points of the compass. It is also the largest town in the Province, and perhaps, the most rapid in growth, containing at the present time a population of about 9,000. The following official figures will show the steady growth of the town in population and wealth for the past ten years: In 1870 the population was 4,057, assessed value of property, $848,800; in 1871 the population was 4,202, assessment, $920,110; 1872, population, 5,223, assessment, $1,069,555; 1873, population, 6,101, assessment, $1,222,905; 1874, population, 6,594, assessment, $1,628,300; 1875, population, 7,301, assessment, $1,797,650; 1876, population, 7,777, assessment, $2,252,310; 1877, population, 8,442, assessment, $2,341,870; 1878, population, 8,645, assessment, $2,419,422; 1879, population, 8,888, assessment, $2,422,565; the present year (1880), population, 8,912, assessment, $2,463,602.

Stratford is distant from London, 39 miles, from Goderich, 45 miles, from Hamilton, 61 miles, from Sarnia, 80 miles, from Buffalo, 115 miles, from Detroit, 143 miles, and from Toronto 88 miles.

The business streets are lined with many fine blocks and stores, devoted to the varied departments of trade and commerce, while numerous elegant mansions and residences adorn the suburban portions. During the present year these have been largely added to by the erection of several extensive business blocks, and a large number of private dwellings, mostly of brick.

The town was lighted with gas in January, 1876, a company composed of the leading citizens having been incorporated for this purpose in 1874. At the present time about $5\frac{1}{2}$ miles of mains have been laid. The question of water works is now being agitated. This is the next most needed improvement, and should be pushed forward with all practicable speed. As a sanitary measure alone it would amply repay all the expenditure incurred. A good street railway, running from the station to the outlying suburbs on Ontario and Huron streets, is another important enterprise which should be seriously taken into consideration, as it would add materially to the convenience of those living in the outlying districts of the town, enhance the value of property in suburban portions, increase the volume of trade in the business centre, and financially, we believe, be amply remunerative.

Several first class hotels, notably the Albion Hotel, Mansion House, Commercial Hotel, fitted up with every convenience, with other good houses of more humble pretensions, afford every facility of a home for the traveling public.

Stratford contains a number of fine public buildings, prominent among which may be mentioned the Court House and Jail, on the height on the north bank of the river, a brick structure erected in 1852; the Market House, in the centre of the Market Square, containing the Town Hall and the various offices connected with the town government, which is also a handsome brick structure; the Odd Fellows Building, on Downie street, opposite the Market House; the Waverly, Phoenix, Albion and Jarvis blocks, on Ontario street, the Indian block, on Market street; the Rankin block, corner of Market and Wellington, together with other buildings of lesser note, testifying to the enterprising spirit manifested by the citizens of this thriving town.

The manufacturing industries of the town are quite numerous and generally in a thriving condition, several of them the present year being obliged to work overtime to keep pace with the increasing demand for their goods. The most extensive of these establishments is that of the Thomson & Williams Manufacturing Co., which gives employment to about 200 men. Next in importance are the Dominion Agricultural Works, the Stratford Agricultural Works, the Stratford Woolen Mills, the Planing Mills of Seringeour Bros., Thos. Orr and Wm. Eason, with a large number of smaller establishments, a more detailed account of which will be found under the head of Principal Manufactories. But chief of all the industrial establishments of Stratford are those connected with the G.T.R. Co., which employ over 700 men in the various departments connected with the road, the pay roll averaging $1,000 a day.

The main line of the Grand Trunk Railway passes through the town from east to west, and is intersected by the Buffalo and Goderich division of the same road. Stratford is also the terminus of the Port Dover and Lake Huron and Stratford and Lake Huron Railways, which have lately passed into the hands of the Grand Trunk Co., thus securing an efficient management, and connect the town with all the principal lines of travel in the Province. Thus it will be seen that in her railway facilities Stratford is rendered easy of access from all points.

The town supports four ably managed weekly newspapers, viz; Stratford Herald, Stratford Beacon, Stratford Times, and Canadian Colonist, the latter being printed in the German language, and liberally patronized by the German residents of the surrounding country.

In her school facilities Stratford has every reason to congratulate herself on the excellent advantages provided for the thorough education of her youth. The school buildings comprise a High School, Central School, and five ward schools, besides two Catholic Separate Schools and the Loretto Convent. These are all exceptionally fine brick buildings, and are thoroughly officered with an efficient corps of teachers, and liberally patronized. The new High School building, erected in 1879, and opened the present year, deserves more than a passing notice, as it is probably the finest structure of its kind in the province. It occupies an eminence overlooking the river a little west of the present westerly end of Ontario street, which latter it is the purpose to extend westerly past the front of the school. The building is an imposing structure, two stories in height with basement and Mansard roof, it is divided into eight departments, four on each floor. The basement is occupied by the janitor as a residence; and the Mansard story is used as a public meeting room. It is built of white brick, with red trimmings, of the modern style of architecture, with gables, turrets, and one main tower, with truncated slate-covered roof, surmounted by wrought iron cresting. It cost, including site, $32,000. The grounds about it are being handsomely laid out with walks, shrubbery &c. The expenditure for teachers' salaries in connection with the High School, for 1879 was $3,276.30; other expenses, $773.92. For teachers' salaries for the Public Schools during the same year, there was paid out $6,105.32; other expenses, $1,387.93.

The Convent of the Ladies of Loretto, on Waterloo street, was established in August, 1878. It occupies a fine two-storey brick building, which was purchased at a cost of $11,600. There are eleven sisters in connection with it, who conduct a select day school of thirty-five pupils, and also assist in the Separate schools. The grounds are tastefully laid out with lawns, shrubbery, &c. The Convent is a branch of Loretto Abbey, Toronto. Adjoining the Convent is the Romeo Ward Separate School, a very fine two-storey brick building, erected in 1878, at a cost of $7,000, and accommodating 300 pupils.

There are eleven churches in the town, representing the usual phases of religious belief, some of whose church buildings are unexcelled in attractiveness and point of architecture by those of any town in the Province.

Avondale Cemetery, occupies a pleasant location in the north-west part, overlooking the "classic" Avon. It is tastefully laid out, with gravelled walks ornamented with shrubbery, and contains a number of handsome monuments. Connected with the Cemetery, on the opposite side of the river, is a grove and pleasure grounds for the accommodation of picnic and pleasure parties.

Before closing this sketch of the town we cannot refrain from noticing what we consider will prove a most important discovery to Stratford, which was made three or four years ago, and one which may in time lend additional interest to the town by securing for it a prominent position in the list of popular watering places. We refer to the Meribah Mineral Springs, on the corner of Ontario and Nile streets. This water, which was found by sinking a well for ordinary drinking purposes, was observed to possess a slight peculiarity of taste which led to investigation and experiment, and after its being tested a few times it was found to produce a very exhilarating effect, and the parties thus benefited recommended it to others who seemed to require it, to test its virtues. These received such decided benefit that the proprietor of the well felt satisfied that it contained remedial virtues sufficient to warrant the expense of an analysis. An analysis was accordingly made by the celebrated Canadian analyst, Prof. Croft, of Toronto, which resulted in the water being pronounced the best in Canada; thereupon the proprietor felt it to be a duty to make provision for participation in its salutary influences by the general public. After consultation with prominent citizens, and others whose opinions were considered valuable, it was resolved to erect baths of all descriptions for applying the water externally and also drinking fountains for the enjoyment of its healthful and invigorating properties when taken internally. In the meantime the water continued to be used both with and without professional direction, and the result has been that now when the water is ready to be utilized in the form of baths of every description, as well as in the way of beverage, an array of testimonials to its extraordinary virtues as a remedial agent have accumulated, placing it at once in the first rank of health-promoting agencies of its class.

PRINCIPAL MANUFACTORIES.

The Stratford Flour Mill, although owned by W. Mowat & Son, bankers, is now rented to the "Stratford Flour Milling Co. (Limited)." It has, at a cost of nearly $4,000, been converted into what is known as a "new process" mill.

Besides the five runs of stones, there are two sets of chilled steel rolls for crushing middlings, by which the 'germ' is entirely removed from the flour. On the second storey two new bolting reels have been added to the double chest formerly in use, and on the third floor another bolting reel has been built. On this floor there are three middlings purifiers of the latest and most improved patterns. In the top of the third storey there is still another bolting reel in operation. On the second storey of the east wing three large hopper-bottomed bins for wheat have been constructed. The power used to drive the mill is from three Turbine-Leffel water wheels, and a forty horse power engine when the water fails. The dam covers about 30 acres. The flour made at this mill is what is known as "Hungarian process," and is equal to the best made on this continent. The best flour is made from the middlings of all spring wheat, Fife being the variety which is most serviceable.
